Privacy and Security

When you engage in a transaction on our Website, we will collect your name, mailing address, phone number and credit card information for use in processing your transaction. We will also collect your e-mail address when you do so, in order that we may send you any necessary e-mail messages related to your transaction. We will not sell or rent your e-mail address to any third party.

Security

Security of all personally identifiable information associated with our customers and visitors is a primary concern of ours. Thus, we have adopted reasonable security measures to protect the security of our users' information. We use a secure layer for all data transmission within our site. We use industry standard encryption technology when transferring and receiving consumer data exchanged with this Website including the protection of credit card data during transmission. Nevertheless, we cannot guarantee complete security of your information inasmuch as no security systems are foolproof. It is also important for you to protect against the unauthorized access to your information as well as to your computer.

Disclaimer

This privacy policy and all statements contained on this Website about privacy and how we deal with data supplied by visitors to this Website are not intended to be a contractual obligation of any kind and any such obligation is hereby disclaimed in its entirety. These statements merely constitute the present policy of RoxStar Fitness, LLC., which we will take reasonable measures to implement. Similarly, this privacy policy is not intended to be "advertising" or "advertising claims." Rather, it is merely intended to set forth our policy, including our practices and intentions, as to how we conduct our business.

Links

This Website may, from time to time, contain links to other sites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of any such sites. Thus, you should be aware of when you are leaving this Website and take the time to read the privacy statements of any such sites if they are in the habit of collecting your personally identifiable information.

Promotions and Contests

We may, from time to time, host a promotion or contest on this Website that is sponsored or co-sponsored by a third party. In connection therewith, you may be asked to provide personal information or permit the transfer to a third party of your personal information. RoxStar Fitness, LLC. has no control over the third party's use of this information. Depending on the situation, you will be informed as to who is collecting or transferring the information and whose privacy statement applies, and it will be your discretion as to whether or not you want to permit the collection or transfer of your personal information to a third party.

Notice

RoxStar Fitness, LLC. may change this privacy policy from time to time. All material changes to this policy are effective immediately upon its posting on this section of our Website. We may also post these changes in the Terms of Use section of this Website and/or by sending an e-mail to users who have provided us their e-mail address for this notification purpose.
